

1) Effective communication.

- 1) communication is vital in the work-place as -
 - it ensures clear understanding of tasks, reduces mistakes, enhance collaboration & builds strong relationships.
 - effective communication is very important for better problem solving, faster decision-making and more productive and positive work environment.
- 2) My communication style is clear, concise and adaptable.
 - I prioritize active listening to understand others' viewpoints and adjust my message based on the person whom I am talking to. whether I'm explaining something technical or giving updates, I make sure my message is easy to understand and encourage open conversation.
- 3) communication is important during an interview because it helps you express your skill, experiences and personality clearly.
 - it's helps to portray your first impression good in interview.
 - effective communication helps to answer questions confidently, and show that you can listen and respond well.